

10 Signs of a Healthy Team

Want a great list of things to discuss in your next team meeting? Take a look at these...

#1 - You actually enjoy being around one another instead of trying to find ways to avoid one another.

#2 - Truth is spoken IN LOVE and not in a condescending or condemning way.

#3 - There is an atmosphere of freedom where differences of opinion can be shared without the immediate perception that the person who is disagreeing is somehow disloyal.

(BTW...if you are in a meeting and you disagree mentally then you have an obligation to disagree verbally! If you do not feel that freedom then there IS a problem!)

#4 - People are willing to walk into the room and ask for help rather than put off the perception that they have it all together.

Read the rest of Perry's list here.

Read more from Perry here.