

8 Questions that Leaders Should be Asking Themselves

Perry Noble, the founding and senior pastor of NewSpring Church in South Carolina, offers eight questions that leaders should be asking themselves on a regular basis:

#1 - Is there ANYTHING that God is really dealing with me about right now that I am trying to deny? (Denial doesn't make us a great leader...if God's pressing in on YOU then He wants YOU to do something.)

#2 - Am I known as the person who sits around and complains about a problem or the one who rolls up his sleeves and dives into how to deal with it?

#3 - Would I rather hear about the church down the road having a major win or a major problem? (This reveals our heart!)

Read the rest of Perry's list here.

Read more from Perry here.